

Why Teachers, Parents, and Administrators LOVE Annie Banannie's Balloon Story Writing Adventure

- ★ Low maintenance. No pre-show prep for students or staff.
- ★ Story Writing Contest motivates students for teacher-assigned classroom writing assignments all year long.
- ★ Teachers often ask how they can get a copy of the Story Invention Game for use in their classroom, and are thrilled when they receive it for free after the assembly.

The kids leave Annie Banannie's show really wanting to go out and write their own stories. That's a very powerful ending for a kids' show, to unleash their creativity and actually create their own stories.

*Amber Thompson,
Evelyn Carr Elementary PTSA*

All of the kids, kindergarten to teens, were participating in the show and having a great time. When Annie asked the kids how many wanted to send in a story for the story contest, the number of hands that went up was impressive.

*Suzanne Catalano,
Washington Elementary PTA*

I love how the classroom worksheet walks the students through writing their own story.

*3rd Grade Teacher,
Valley View Elementary*

Let me tell you that everyone LOVED your performance. The kids were thrilled and the teachers were still talking about the assembly at the end of the day. My daughter is writing a story already. She wants to send it to you right away!

*Claudia Hernandez,
Collett Elementary PTA*

Experience the Online Video at:
www.BalloonStorytellerVideo.com